Building For A New Age

Over the past 38 years, the new home construction has dramatically changed the face of Sudbury and since 1969 Dennis Consultants has been on the leading edge of this residential progression and land development in the Sudbury region.

Dennis Consultants is a civil and municipal engineering firm that has been retained to provide design and detail engineering for over 300 subdivision and land development projects throughout Greater Sudbury. Services provided to Sudbury's home building sector include draft plans of subdivision, detail design of road networks, sanitary and storm collection systems and water distribution systems. The comprehensive range of services offered by the company have assisted the Sudbury housing industry through the complete land development process from conceptual ideas, planning process, design development, municipal and Ministry approvals on to the final residential lot.

Dennis Consultants has been involved in notable residential developments, providing complete planning and development services to Sudbury's premiere subdivision projects from development of the Moonglo subdivision to Mallard's Green, Vintage Green and Copper Park's new home projects. Additionally, Dennis Consultants has also been involved in the design and planning of subdivisions in New Sudbury and Garson and most of the major developments in Valley East, Rayside-Balfour and Walden have also been under the guidance and administration of Dennis Consultants. Sudbury's economy is currently experiencing tremendous growth and the residential planning experts at Dennis Consultants are proud to be part of these exciting times. The Sudbury & District Home Builders' Association speaks for the home construction sector in Greater Sudbury. The Association coupled with members like Dennis Consultants strive to build better communities, neighbourhoods and homes in the Greater Sudbury area.

What's Your Number?

All new homes built by Tarion Registered Builders are supplied with a Tarion Warranty Certificate and Enrollment Number, as shown.

Unregistered builders are not bound to any after sales service and will likely leave you with repairs to fix on your own.

All builders and vendors must be registered with Tarion Warranty to build and sell homes in Ontario. It's the Law!
