Code of Ethics

Members shall comply with applicable building codes of Ontario as a minimum standard for construction and shall work toward its improvement in the interests of structural sufficiency, safety and health.

Members shall plan their sites and homes to conform to the principles of good community planning and support for the environment.

Members shall deal justly with their employees, contractors and suppliers of all goods and services.

Members shall deal honestly and fairly with their customers, and stand behind the quality of their work and service commitments.

Members shall exchange information and experience, and encourage research on materials, technical advancements and building techniques in order to provide the best value for their customers.

Members shall avoid all conduct or practice detrimental to the home building industry, to the Association to the good name or reputation of any of its members, or its customers.

Members shall commit to continuing learning through human resource policies and practices, including employment practices which treat employees as assets.

Members shall actively promote health and safety principles.

Members shall treat their competitors, including their property and ideas, with respect.

These responsibilities are freely and solemnly assumed as they form part of an obligation as a Member of the Canadian Home Builders' Association.

The following is the Mission Statement of the Canadian Home Builders' Association:

Mission Statement

- to be the voice of the residential construction industry;
- to achieve an environment in which our membership can operate profitably;
- and to promote affordability and choice in housing for all people in Canada.
